

Gerald Smith began his recent tour as the head of the Office of Agricultural Affairs (OAA) at the U.S. Consulate Ho Chi Minh City (HCMC) in August 2015. In his last Washington, D.C. assignment, Gerald served as the Branch Chief for the Trade and Scientific Exchanges Division. From 2009 to 2012 he served as the Agricultural Attaché at the U.S. Embassy, Seoul, South Korea. Prior to FAS Seoul, he served as the Agricultural Attaché for India, Bangladesh, and Sri Lanka. He was responsible for marshalling the U.S. – India Agricultural Knowledge Initiative. Gerald served as an International Economist at FAS from 2002 to 2006. He received his Ph.D. in International Development Policy from Howard University.

Megan Francic has been the Agricultural Attaché at the OAA HCMC since December 2017. Megan joined FAS in 2015, and this is her first overseas assignment. Previously, she served as the Office of Country and Regional Affairs Desk Officer for Brazil and the Southern Cone and the Grain and Feed Analyst for Asia. Prior to joining FAS, Megan worked for Catholic Relief Services, Care International- Madagascar, and served in Peace Corps Madagascar. She also was a Fellow on the Senate Agriculture Committee during drafting of the 2014 Farm Bill and a Consultant at the OECD Trade and Agriculture Directorate, Development Division. She has a Master's degree from the Johns Hopkins School of Advanced International Studies in International Development and International Economics and a Bachelor's degree from the University of Pennsylvania in International Relations. Megan is from Queens, NY.